AREA GUIDE

Rockville, one of the largest cities in Maryland, will host Intervention. Considered by many to be the technological center of the region, Rockville also has a rich cultural history dating back to the 1700s. The city itself is celebrating its 150th anniversary in 2010, but Intervention is sure to be the biggest party in town all year! If this is your first time to the area, here's a handy guide to area restaurants, shopping, and attractions to help you feel a little more at home.
